Romulus dancer wins Black arts contest

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Seventeen year old Bernard Randall of Romulus - a self taught tap dancer - has won first place in the grades 10-12 level of the seventh annual Tribute to Black Americans in Arts, Entertainment and Education.

The contest sponsored by Media One was held in Southfield earlier this month.

In addition to winning a cash prize, Randall won a pizza party for his homeroom at Romulus High and an appearance in MediaOne television programs.

Randall, a junior at Romulus High, admits to admiring the unorthodox style of Jimmy Slyde whom he met about a year ago.

His high winning performance incorporated Slyde's old way of tapping as well as that of Savion Glover. Randall also performed during the awards ceremony.

An active member and volunteer at the Redford Boys and Girls Club for a number of years, Randall plans to attend either Morgan State or Howard Universities after graduation from Romulus High.

He plans to major in theater and dance.

Earlier students between the ages of five to 18 submitted original works in the categories of art, literature, music, drama or dance, science and technology as well as sports. The entries paid tribute to a particular African-American or historical event.

Diane Bolton, MediaOne's Education Services Manager, proudly stated this year's program received a variety of quality entries in each category, which made judging even more difficult.

Westland soldier trains in desert

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Army Spec Eric C. Naylor is being trained in one of the most sophisticated war games in the world today.

Naylor, son of Donald L. Naylor of Westland, actually has been signed on as a member of the infamous "Black-horse Regiment" in a realistic war game that goes into battle 10 or 12 times a year in the National Training Center in Fort Irwin, California.

He actually is a member of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment that serves as the enemy in the major war game. Naylor himself operates an opposing force surrogate vehicle in the combat-environment battlefield.

During the war game days the desert area is transformed

"We are the enemy here, where in Germany we were the good guys."

- Eric C. Naylor

into a fictitious country named Mojavia and Naylor plays the part of a Krasnovian soldier that invades the small desert nation.

The war game provides a hostile battle zone for more than 70,000 active-duty National Guard and Reserve soldiers.

"Being at Fort Irwin is very different from where I was stationed in Germany," Naylor explained. "It's different because we are the enemy here, where in Germany we were the good guys. It's a lot more fun to hunt than be hunted."

Being a part of one of the most storied Army units in existence is just one of the advantages of being stationed in this Southern Californian desert, he said.

The opportunity to take on the Army's best combat units year round makes him one of the most highly-trained, battle-savvy soldiers in the world.

It's quite an experience, he states. "The training that I've received here will help me because I've learned how to train others.

Army Spec Eric C. Naylor scans the horizon for enemies at the National Training Center in California.

In the article, another article on page A-4, "Former Metro Airport worker killed 20-30 women," the horrendous crimes were allegedly committed by a man, there's reference to ethnicity, nationality, race or physical disability status.

The race should be eliminated from impartial reporting.

What's the point?

Caller thanks Debbie Davis and Dorothy Smith for questioning city's vouchers

This is about Mrs. Davis speaking at the April 17 [Westland] City Council meeting.

I'd like to say, Mrs. Davis, keep up the good work. You really bring things to the surface.

As a taxpayer, I would also like to know about the gasoline versus the mileage on city vehicles. If an employee leaves work with a full tank on Friday, does he come in Monday morning and fill up with gas? Is the vehicle millage used more for business or pleasure?

These are things that need to be investigated and improved in the city of Westland.

I'd also like to say thanks to Mrs. Smith for mentioning the two phone bills, but getting, yet again, another unintelligible answer from the city. If I got two bills, I would question it, not like the city's answer: I don't know why we get two bills, we just pay them.

Stone Age attitude marred column favoring cellular phone restrictions

Tell Ivan Helfman to get out of the Stone Age [for supporting restrictions on cell phones].

Honest Pat Gibbons would be a good representative for Westland in Lansing

I've read the paper lately and have seen headlines about Patricia Gibbons. I've read them in a couple of different papers. From what I've read, these people may be on to something.

She seems to be a person of honesty and integrity. From what I can read, she might be running for senate. I think that's a great idea [except there's no senate election - Ed].

She seems to be very independent, neutral; doesn't let politics get in the way of her job. But it seems politics got in the way and ousted her from her job.

It seems she's a very good person who may be able to represent the citizens in Lansing.

Robinson confirmed as new airport chief

As expected Lester W. Robinson of Belleville has been confirmed as new director of the Wayne County Airports by the Wayne County Commission.

Despite some tough talk earlier by some of the commissioners, 10 commissioners including John Sullivan (D-Wayne) voted to confirm his nomination to succeed David Katz.

Commissioner Kathleen Husk (R-Redford) was the only commissioner to vote in opposition to Robinson's appointment.

Three commissioners were excused from the meeting and one was reported a non-voting member.

Robinson assumes his new post on May 1.

Inkster Post Office joins war against breast cancer

The Inkster Post Office has joined a nation-wide campaign to raise funds for breast cancer research by encouraging the use of a special fund-raising stamp on cards and letters, with a goal of selling out the stamp, according to Inkster postmaster Joseph K. Bodary.

The Breast Cancer Research "semipostal" stamp is the first in U.S. postal history to have its net proceeds above the cost of postage earmarked for research organizations. If the entire print run of 280 million stamps is sold out, up to an estimated $20 million will be raised for breast cancer research. To date about $11 has been raised, according to postal officials.

"The self-adhesive Breast Cancer Research stamp is now available," Bodary said. "The Postal Service has a proud tradition of issuing stamps to help raise awareness of deadliest diseases among women. We encourage everyone to purchase and use the stamp before it goes off sale July 29."

Bodary noted that the Inkster Post Office will stage a special promotion for the stamp on May 3 from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. He said that representatives from the Barbara Ann Karmonos Cancer Institute will be on hand and refreshments will be served.

The 40-cent, self-adhesive Breast Cancer Research stamp is valid for postage at the 33-cent First Class letter rate, with up to 7 cents per stamp sold going to research.

Seventy percent of the net proceeds above the cost of postage is given to the National Institutes of Health (NIH). Thirty percent goes to the Medical Research Program of the Department of Defense (DoD). The NIH and DoD, which both conduct breast cancer research, were identified as recipients of the funds by legislation.

The stamps are available toll-free at 1-800-STAMP-24. To see an image of the Breast Cancer Research stamp, or to order stamps, visit the Postal Service's Web at www.stamps.online.com.

Y.A.F. presents Award

The annual Yankee Air Force Liberator Award was presented earlier this month at the annual Tri-service ROTC awards ceremony at the University of Michigan to Air Force ROTC Cadet Jermaine D. Jordan of Livonia, Mich.

The award was presented by Y.A.F. Senior Life member Harold W. Sherman. The award is presented to the AFROTC sophomore whose attitude, enthusiasm and leadership best exemplifies the image and the heritage of the World War II B-24 Liberator air crews.

This award was first presented in 1991. It is a framed photograph of the "Michigan," a consolidated B-24J Liberator bomber of World War II on whose nose was painted a picture of a female cheerleader with a backdrop of a football game in the University of Michigan Stadium.

The "Michigan" served with the 64th Bombardment Squadron, 43rd Bombardment Group (H), Fifth U.S. Army Air Force in the Southwest Pacific Air Theatre of the war.

Although this bomber was not built at the Willow Run bomber plant, the Ford Motor Co. did build 8,685 of these bombers there.

Help us honor Tom and put a few students thru college

I wanna be like Tom, as in Tom Mooradian, sportswriter and reporter for this newspaper for over 35 years. Few in our profession command the respect and admiration like Tom. His ability to tell a story and dig for the difficult are unsurpassed.

Tom never pulls any punches. He always tells it like it is and sometimes that gets him and this newspaper into trouble. But, he feverishly proclaims the reader has a right to know, and whether he's hurting a friend or putting a criminal behind bars, Tom usually writes a fair story that presents both sides. And because of his fairness, people and community leaders respect his effort to tell the news.

Tom and I have a mutual passion – basketball. Before becoming a newspaper reporter Tom was a basketball player, and a damn good one. His high school on-court exploits were legendary and later he honed his craft on the basketball courts of the USSR, where he was forcibly confined for several years.

Now he spends hours each day writing about roundball, as well as other sports. He and I often engage in friendly wagers on who will win a particular game. We always bet a coffee, and no matter who wins, generous Tom always seems to be buying the coffee.

Over the years he has touched a lot of people. He probably wrote about your father and now he is writing about your son. He has covered hundreds of murders, but likewise, has reported on thousands of sporting events. No one, and I mean no one knows high school sports in this area better than Tom.

Now it is time for us to honor the man that has spent so many hours using his pen to inform us. The Khamalaw White Foundation is sponsoring a "roast" to honor Tom and hopefully raise a few bucks to send several worthy students to college. To be held at Hawthorne Valley, a banquet hall in Westland, the roast-luncheon is slated for Saturday, May 13. Tickets however must be purchased by May 3.

Khamalaw White was a teacher, coach and athletic director at Inkster High School for nearly 30 years. During his tenure, Inkster produced a number of sports teams that won local, regional and state titles. The foundation was established to honor Mr. White and his efforts that contributed positively to the lives of hundreds of student-athletes.

This is a great opportunity to hear community leaders and high school coaches tell one story after another about Tom. Some will be kind, but others, who have been bitten by Tom's caustic pen, may take the opportunity to return the favor. The luncheon ought to be a barrel of laughs.

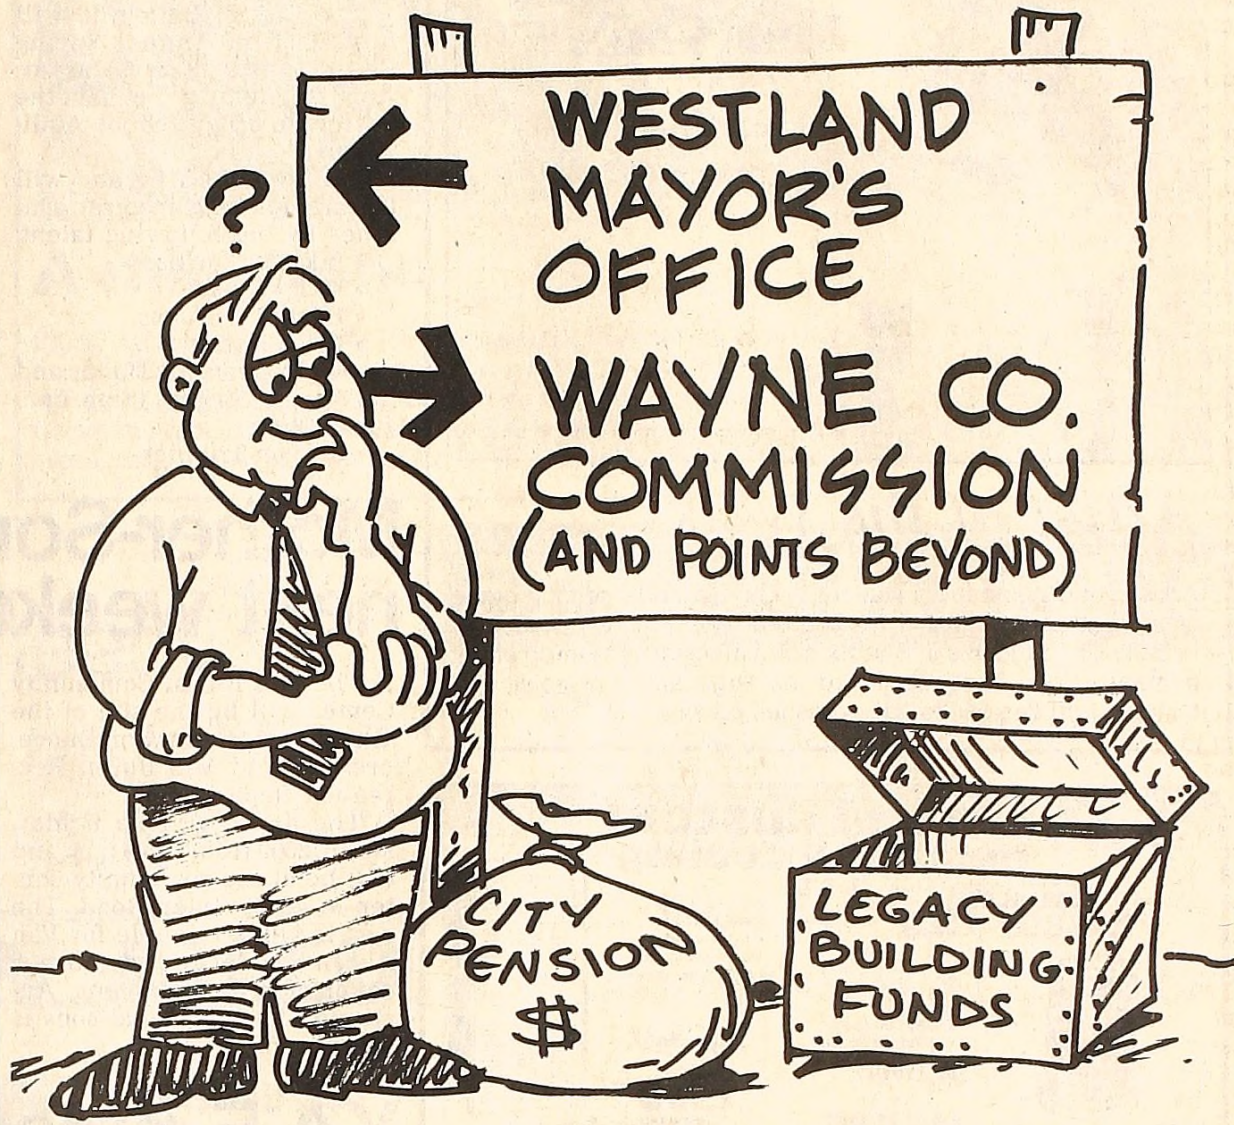

One presenter, former Inkster Schools Superintendent Terrel LeCesne says he's been practicing his speech for several weeks. He claims to have so much damning material about Tom that he is having a difficult time fitting it all in. I can't wait to hear this.

So if you know Tom, which most of us in this area do, or have been touched by his writing, or would like to help send a few students to college, please purchase your tickets for this event. Simply call 313-562-6805, 734-722-3426 or 734-729-8538.

Getting used to Plymouth-Canton

Even a tropical paradise takes some getting used to.

I learned this when I rented a condo for a year in Maui and found out that after a few weeks in the sun I missed my friends and family and the corner deli.

So it was only natural that when I moved to Canton I found some things I could only accept with a lot of effort.

One was the hyphenated names of the high schools: Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth-Salem.

When I first heard them, I did a double take, especially on Plymouth-Canton.

Not only sounded ridiculous, but it was geographically disorienting. Was Plymouth-Canton in Plymouth or Canton? Which city sent its kids there?

I did another double take when people explained to me that both high schools were on one campus and that neither Plymouth nor Canton had its own high school, but that students were assigned by lottery – brothers, sisters, neighborhoods, communities traditions be damned.

But after a while I got so used to the high schools' daft names and cultivated anomie that I could explain them, if not defend them, to mystified first-time visitors. Of course, when the school board decided to give the high schools normal names (while retaining the totalitarian assignment process), I felt less embarrassed, as if a favorite uncle had quit wearing a cheap toupee.

But to my surprise, others felt differently. For instance, I read in the Detroit News that Plymouth-Salem lettermen Jeff Hair and Danielle Portelli, juniors who wear letter jackets with emblazoned with "P's," plan to start a student petition drive to convince the school board to reconsider the name changes.

The "P" unified the community, Hair reportedly claimed.

Judging by the hoots and jeers blared when the school board voted to change the names, many adults agree with Hair.

So does veteran school board member Roland Thomas, a Plymouth resident, who said that lopping off the hyphenated Plymouth would not only dilute the schools' community identity, it would also violate a 30-year-old policy created when Plymouth had considerably more cachet than Canton, then a farming community.

"People may be confused," Thomas said, warning that the change would cause a chain reaction: signs, letterheads, and varsity jackets would have to be changed.

To soothe the hotheads, board President Davis plans to appoint a committee ("stakeholder committee" in school board speak) to ease the transition.

While I must commend Davis for finally creating an achievable goal for the district's historically under-achieving committees, I sympathize with the hyphenated Plymouth crowd.

Not because removing the "P's" will unravel the community, but because the names Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth-Salem convey the district's singular attitude.

After all, didn't master novelist Gustave Flaubert stipulate that you must describe a thing in such a way as to particularize it clearly, to distinguish it from all the other beings or objects of the same kind?

Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth-Salem are oddball names that describe an oddball campus perfectly. A case could be made for delaying the switch to typical names until the community creates normal high schools that respect traditional families, neighborhoods, and communities.

Is collecting guns the answer?

The almost daily barrage of shooting deaths in the media seems to have a numbing impact on the public today, sometimes creating almost a "can't win" attitude with many.

But two families pierced by gunmen's bullets last year – one in Littleton, Colorado and one in Fort Worth, Texas – refuse to accept the "rid the cities of guns" philosophy.

Both families feel that philosophy seems to fall into the 60 minute solution concepts that today's society request.

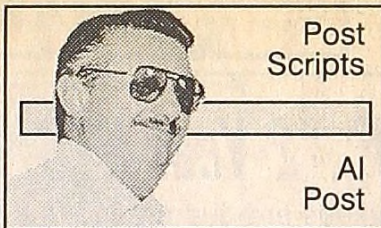

Young Mark Taylor, whose body was riddled with six or more bullets in the Columbine High School tragedy, told a Metro area press conference last week on the Columbine anniversary that guns were not the main factor in the multiple slayings at his school.

Born of Christian parents, Donna and Mark Taylor, he stated bluntly that he is troubled by attitudes expressed today by his fellow teenagers.

"Some actually tell me they would accept $1 million and allow themselves to be shot up like me...with no guarantees they would live," young Taylor said.

"It is sad," he observed "that they think more of money than their own lives."

Because of that and other concerns, Taylor has started his own ministries program aimed mostly at today's youth.

Post Scripts

Al Post

Mark's father also is proud that his son has forgiven the two Columbine students, who created the carnage in the school library. The two gunmen also died in the school that day.

Both father and son feel strongly that if the pair had Jesus rather than Hitler as their idol...none of the killings would have happened.

Meanwhile only minutes later last Thursday a still grieving David Griffin – father of Cassandra Griffin of Fort Worth, Tex. – admitted that for months after his daughter's tragic murder inside the family's church (Wedgwood Baptist Church), he and his wife, Tralissa, preferred to guard their privacy from the media.

But because of God's influence and the reading of his daughter's underlined Bible – the family has decided they needed to speak out against violence across the U.S.

Last Thursday was the first time they spoke outside of their hometown of Fort Worth.

Seated to the left of a framed 8 by 10 inch color photo of his daughter, David Griffin said his eyes still fill with tears when he considers the loss of his daughter.

"But I refuse to be a pawn of the anti-gun lobbyists. Society needs to check its heart not its guns – if this shooting craze is ever to end," he stated.

So we have put our privacy aside and now will travel about the U.S. sharing our daughter's passion for the Lord.

David Griffin admits deep questions still resound about his daughter's death – particularly since the crazed gunman had no connection with his church.

But the events that night became life changing experiences for his family.

"We thought our daughter was safe in church," he said painfully, "but we now realize that safety is not limited to this earthly world."

The biggest impact on his family's church is the growth in its prayer life.

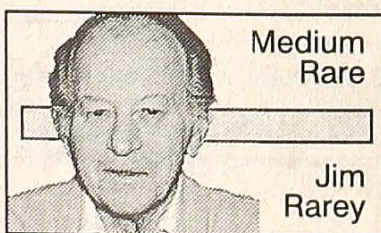

"We feel if the world followed our church's example – we would be living in a much happier and safer society," both of Cassandra's parents exclaimed.

Did Feds set up senior tower killings

In the wake of the tragic shooting rampage at the Senior Court Towers in Lincoln Park, Michigan, questions are being raised about occupancy rules set by the federal department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), which were changed in the early 1990's.

Most of the front-page hype about the incident is (predictably) aimed at more gun control laws. However, an article by reporter Katie Mertz (buried on page 5) in the April 20th Detroit News reveals the real problem that led to the deaths of three defenseless senior citizens.

The HUD occupancy rules were changed to define "senior"

Medium Rare

citizen as anyone 62 years of age or older along with persons of any age who suffer from physical or mental disabilities. According to Livonia housing director James Inglis, HUD rules force them to accept the applications of "disabled persons", even if they are suffering from mental illness and are taking mind altering (psychotropic) drugs. Inglis said the application could not be denied as long as a background check did not reveal any criminal record.

In the case of Kenneth Miller, 56, (the shooter in the Lincoln Park killings) he reportedly disclosed on his application that he was suffering from schizophrenia and was taking medication for the condition. It was also known that he kept several firearms in his apartment. Schizophrenia is often accompanied by paranoid delusions, which seem to be present in Miller's behavior. He is described by those who know him alternately as a mild-mannered Bible-quoting personality and a hot-tempered victim of perceived persecution.

To add to the prescription for disaster, Miller was taking Prozac and Xanax medications. Side effects of both widely prescribed drugs are known to include psychotic episodes where persons lose touch with reality. (The same is true of Ritalin being taken by over three million students in the nation's schools, including most of the shooters in the recent spate of school killings. But that is another story.)

The bottom line is that federal housing officials are putting innocent citizens in their golden years at risk by their misguided notion that mentally ill persons, especially those with the potential for violence, can safely be intermixed with seniors.

Wayne City Council forgot to question Newberry Square developers

To the Editor:

After the Newberry Square project was approved by a 4-3 council vote, I thought: "Well, for the city's sake, I hope that the project is completed and let's move on."

What I have heard from many other people has prompted me to write. Here's what I have heard, without going into the specifics of name calling, ethical questioning, or just plain lack of thinking this through:

A lot of people are upset with the council action or inaction, as the case may be. The flames of discontent seem to be rising. To my personal surprise, many have said that they do not like the Newberry Square project. They are quite upset by the council's lack of foresight and they are asking a lot of questions such as: Why? Why are we giving them so much money? Why didn't they do this or why didn't they do that?

Here are some of the questions/points made at the meeting, before the voting took place, having no action taken on them:

1) As was suggested by an architect in the audience: Why didn't the council request having the cities own soil sample study? As a responsible business (the city is a business) and as seeking a second opinion, this would have been to the best interest of the city.

2) Why didn't the city request that the builder do a study or get a consultant to study a less expensive foundation? It was noted by the same architect, that there were at least two other types of foundations to support that building. He said that they were much cheaper. $300/400K than the $400K/$800K suggested by the builder. With a cheaper method, quite possibly the cities cash involvement could have been greatly reduced.

3) As the city attorney suggested, why didn't the council request having the DDA contacted to see if the proposed $300K donation would be met with DDA approval? After all, the building and the property that it sits on was purchased with DDA funds and the city attorney said you cannot give DDA funds to a private enterprise. I am concerned that at a later date, the DDA will come back to Wayne and demand repayment with interest, the $300K. It would be better to know before the vote was taken.

4) Why didn't the council pursue requirements of a second bonding of the project, in order to protect the city's investments? The city attorney didn't say it couldn't be done, just that it was unlikely that the financial institution would grant it. The bank could only respond in one of two ways: YES or NO. If you don't ask for it, you don't get it.

5) Why didn't the council pursue receiving a current financial report from the builder? According to what I

If you're going to vote on $200K, you might as well not vote. It won't be enough. We are not sure if $300K will be enough.

- Kathy Makino

heard at the meeting, no one, the city included excepting councilwoman Shackelford, received a financial report of this company.

I have posed these questions to the three dissenting councilpersons. Their answers were: "It wouldn't have done any good, they had four votes," And "They had four votes."

By her own admission, Ms. Makino said at the February 15, 2000 meeting: "If you're going to vote on $200K, you might as well not vote. It won't be enough. We are not sure if $300K will be enough." To gain approval. That doesn't sound like a financially sound organization to me. Have they ever declared bankruptcy before? How much of their own money are they putting into this 8.5 million dollar project?

I left the March 21st meeting feeling sad, disappointed and yes, even let down by the whole council. They chose not to seek answers to come probing questions and they chose to ignore some very sound business practices. Nor were they willing to act upon some very good suggestions. The four "yes" votes were so intent and determined to pass the motion that their vision was clouded from recognizing crucial issues. Nothing was going to stop their railroad train! The three "no" votes seemed so resigned to defeat that they were unable to muster the strength to continue the battle and they missed precious opportunities raise valid objections and invoke necessary protective business procedures.

Where does this leave the city? One of two things will happen:

1) The bank will deny the loan (many citizens are hoping that this will happen). At which point, the builders will ask for more money and the council will give it to them, by a 4-3 vote. In which case:

2) The project will go on, hopefully completed and it will succeed on it's own merits.

Where does this leave the taxpayer? To paraphrase former Senator Everett Dirksen: $100K here, $300K there, pretty soon you're talking big money. And I remind you: "It's your money, folks."

Finally, in closing. I know from talking to many citizens, they have criticism, complaints and questions about the Newberry Square project. Some had even thought that it died a long time ago and wonder how it reappeared. If you don't receive anything else from this letter, remember this, a lack of response by the citizens is almost always perceived as acceptance by politicians, to their actions/programs, etc. I encourage others to respond to those involved by letter, personal contact/appearance or a phone call. And: If you approve what they have done, tell them so. A word of encouragement goes just as far as a word of criticism, maybe even farther.

Implants: Hope for Loose Dentures

Question: My denture is quite loose and moves around when I talk and chew. I have had new ones made, but they still are not very good. Is there anything I can have done to improve them?

Answer: This is a common problem among patients who wear complete dentures. Lower dentures especially have the problem of moving around and slipping when a patient talks or chews food. This is usually due to the fact that the bone ridge on the lower jaw will often resorb over time and become lower and lower. It can get to the point where there is little or no bone to support and retain the lower denture.

There is a good solution. More and more, dentists are using implants to support and hold in dentures. In this column, I outline some of the basics of how implants work--titanium inserts are surgically placed in the bone, which join with the bone to serve as "roots." In the case of a denture, the dentist may place two, three, or more implants and construct a denture which tightly fits on these anchors. The patient now has a set of teeth which don't move or fall out.

If you are in need of a better solution for your mouth, call Newburgh Heights Dental today.

Duframe cuts Southgate down

Young Belleville hurler humbles Mega Red title contender, 5-1

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Southgate Anderson, everyone's pre-season pick to win the tough Mega Conference, Red Division baseball championship, got its first look at Belleville and a young pitcher by the name of Derrick Duframe.

And Southgate didn't come away too happy.

Duframe pitched a five-hit gem, struck out 10 batters and walked two in chalking up an impressive 5-1 victory over the title-pretenders.

Duframe received plenty of support from teammates Charlie Borque who doubled and singled against the losers and also drove in three of the five Tiger runs.

Belleville's Brent Zeestrachest chipped in with a pair of singles.

Duframe was equally impressive against a Wyandotte ball club earlier this season as he posted a 10-1 victory over the Bruins.

The young Belleville hurler fired a one-hitter and struck out 11 for his second victory of the campaign.

"We're a very young team," said Belleville's Pat Digman, who is in his fourth year as head coach. "We have only two seniors in this year's lineup."

The senior class is represented by James Hagerman, who returns behind the plate and Matt Caudill, who is also a pitcher-catcher.

The Tigers weren't even considered by those in the know as a possible title threat during the coaches' conference meeting, but in the early going they have amassed a respectable 4-2 overall record and the chemistry of the team appears explosive at times.

They deserve a second look at best as a possible title threat.

Digman however feels that Southgate and Garden City remain the teams to fear in the conference.

"They have a lot of talent, and it's going to be difficult beating them when they put their No. 1 ace on the mound."

Duframe, with back-to-back victories, has emerged as the ace of the Belleville pitching lineup in the early part of the season. But the Tigers also have a couple of solid performers in A. C. Linzell and Kiwan Hearn. And Brent Zeestrachest also is available.

Most of the line-up is made up of juniors, the Belleville coach reiterated.

And fans will still need a program to identify most of the 2000 Tiger lineup.

School's out, but not for Romulus

Eagles lose 2 thrillers

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus baseball coach Keith Brothers doesn't want to see another week like the last one.

For two good reasons.

Brothers' Eagles dropped a 3-2 decision to Dearborn Heights Annapolis as the Cougars rallied in the last of the seventh to pull out the Mega Conference baseball game.

Then, against Woodhaven, Romulus built up a 9-1 lead when Woodhaven exploded for a record-setting 12 runs (against the Eagles) in the bottom of the sixth to win the slugfest, 13-9.

"It really hurt," said Brothers later, commenting on the obviously painful two setbacks. "But that's life in sports. If you put those two wins in our 'W' column, we would have a respectable 8-3 overall record today. And that's not bad considering where still in the early part of the season."

Romulus remains atop of the Mega Conference, Gold Division standings. A victory, via an unexpected forfeit, over Highland Park made sure of that. The league-leader is 3-0, but they will have to face two tough opponents next week in Dearborn Heights Crestwood and Fordson.

Both teams are considered serious title contenders this year.

Dennis Landskroener was the victim in the Annapolis heartbreaker. The senior right-hander blanked the Cougars for five innings before he gave up two runs in the bottom of the sixth.

Then, in the seventh, the Cougars put together two singles and a bunt that rolled back to the pitcher's mound and wound up in center field after Landskroener pivoted and fired the ball wide of second base.

Landskroener gave up a to-

Rained-out

The record 3.4 inch rain fall on Thursday wiped out the track & field and baseball schedules for that day and Friday. But teams were expected to be back in action, despite some rain-soaked diamonds, on Monday, according to most local coaches.

Torrential rains wipe out track & field events

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The torrential rains that hit Southeastern Michigan on Thursday and downed tree branches, electrical wires and caused wide-spread flooding and electrical outages also took its toll on high school sports.

All sports activity was canceled and athletic directors say that they don't know when the games and meets will be rescheduled.

Unbeaten Romulus, the defending Mega Conference, White Division track & field champ, was scheduled to meet Wayne Memorial but the storm forced the two arch-rivals to cancel.

"I really don't know when we will reschedule this meet," said Romulus coach Norb Glover. "I don't think you'll find anyone who got in their meet on Thursday."

"That's how bad that storm was."

Before it left the area, the storm had dumped more than 3 inches of rain.

However, on Wednesday, Plymouth-Salem managed to turn back John Glenn, 108 1/2 to 29 1/2 in a Western Lakes Conference, Lakes Division dual meet.

Salem swept all four relays, but had to come from behind in both the 1,600 and the 400 to take those two events.

"We led in both of those relays, but they came back and won them," said Glenn coach Jess Slough.

Slough said that despite the losses he is not discouraged.

"We are a very competitive team and I like our working attitude. We're going to win a few before this is all over with."

Glenn did have a first place in the pole vault where Joe Reilly cleared 10 feet for the vic-

No one ever told Todd Duffield that life would be easy. Or coaching.

"We had a rough week," said the Duffield, whose Rockets at John Glenn managed to salvage a non-conference victory while losing two in the Western Lakes Conference.

"We are improving and we're not getting discouraged. That's important," said Duffield.

A six-run North Farmington surge in the bottom of the third opened the way for a 9-4 NF victory over Glenn and starter Dave Mijal as an opener for the week.

Mijal gave up seven runs in 2 1/3 innings, struck out four and walked five before Duffield decided to relieve him with Brian Toth.

North's Ian Goodman who went the distance was tagged for a single run in the opening inning. The winner also gave up one run in each of the third, fifth and sixth innings.

However, the NF starter had problems with Brandon Ajlouni who drilled a pair of singles, and also scored twice. Chad Sansom also checked in with two hits, one going for a two-bagger. Sansom also had two RBIs.

Against Edsel Ford of Dearborn, Glenn's Nate Campbell twirled a four- hitter, struck out four and didn't allow a walk en route to an impressive 2-1 victory over the T-Birds.

Loser Dan Katnik went five before yielding to P. J. Wynne.

Glenn broke a 1-1 deadlock in the top of the sixth thanks to a single by Ajlouni, who advanced on a wild pitch and scored with Dave Holloway's pinch-hit single.

The Rockets tied the game in their fourth as Ajlouni again came through with a walk and eventually scored when Jeff Mitchell lined a double down the right field line.

Four costly errors led to Glenn's demise against an up-and-coming Livonia Franklin club. The Patriots pulled out a 7-6 victory with two runs in the bottom of the seven, and they did that after the Rockets tallied twice in their seventh.

Duffield started Jeff Mitchell, who walked one and struck out two and also intentionally walked another batter.

In the top of the seventh, Glenn grabbed a 6-5 lead as

New coach brings new hope to young Vikings

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

There's a new baseball coach and new hope at Inkster High where coach Johnny Graham has taken over the program that was non-existent a year ago.

Graham, who prepped at Inkster High in the early 1970s and went on to play college ball at Grand Valley State, said that he has only one senior in this year's lineup, but is quick to point out that he also has a group of hard-working players.

"Attitude is very important in my book," says Graham, whose club has a

1-3 record. "I feel that if you have the right attitude you can go a long way."

"If you don't, then I don't care what you do, you're going to have problems."

Inkster bounced back from an opening-season loss to River Rouge (20-2) and Dearborn Fordson (19-0) to beat Highland Park, 13-6, in a Mega Conference, Gold Division game.

The victory went to right-hander Kentrail Fickling, a junior who struck out 15, but issued an equal number of walks.

The Parkers only got one hit off the Viking hurler, who went the distance for his first varsity victory.

Inkster scored in every inning but the third and never trailed after Ronald Perry sliced a first-inning single, stole second and scored when Fickling drilled a RBI single to right. Fickling eventually scored on a wild pitch.

The Vikings went on to put three runs on the scoreboard in the second, fourth and sixth and scored two in the fifth.

The Vikings will be back on the diamond May 5th when they clash with Crestwood on the Dearborn Heights' high school's field.

Graham had 18 players report this spring, and 16 remain on the roster to date. A year ago, Inkster was forced to cancel the season because of a lack of players.

"We have a good solid nucleus of players," Graham says. "And I am confident that we're going to be allright."

Although this is Graham's first head coaching position, he has served as an assistant to Steve Brown at DePore during the 1993 and 1994 seasons.

Along with Fickling, Graham is looking at two freshmen - Keith Hicks and Roosevelt Sledge, both southpaws, to start on the mound. Junior Anthony Garner and sophomore Chris Delleh are ready for mound duty as well.

The Vikings' infield is made up of first baseman Mark Warren, shortstop Chris Delleh, second baseman Ronald Perry and at third is Brandon Dawson.

The outfielders include Marcus Warren, Anthony Garner, and right field remains a question mark with freshmen Sledge, Charlie Edwards and Thomas Layden vying for the position.

Robert Hudson, who had a successful wrestling season, will captain the Vikings this year. The only senior on the squad, Hudson is the backstop.

"He's a natural leader," said Graham of the senior captain.

Still looking for golfers

The Canton Parks and Recreation Services is still looking for a few good lady golfers to play in its summer league and up coming golf clinic.

The Recreation Services, in conjunction with Pheasant Run Golf Club, is sponsoring an instructional golf clinic for women at Pheasant Run Golf Club.

The session consists of three lessons taught by a PGA professional, which includes instructions in chipping, putting, sand shots, iron play, wood play and golf course management.

Nonresidents are also welcomed.

Deadline to register is May 5 or when the class limit has been reached.

By the way, there is a $70 registration fee, and participants may opt to register for the 10 to 11:30 a.m. or the 5:30 to 7 p.m. lessons.

The Canton Women's Golf League will begin play on May 8 at Fellows Creek Golf Course. There is a $15 registration fee, plus weekly greens fees.

The league will remain competitive for 16-weeks and prospective participants are urged to call 397-5110 for more details.

Henn leads Wayne to win

Backed by the medalist play of Amber Henn, Wayne Memorial posted a 230-243 victory over Belleville in a Mega Conference, Red Division girls' golf match.

Henn posted a 49 for nine holes at the Lake in the Woods Golf Course.

But the Braves of Ypsilanti came back and scored a 231-251 victory over the Zebras as Henn again surfaced as medalist. She finished with a 58.

Want to play hoops

The Inkster Parks and Recreation and Tyrone Wheatley, former Robichaud High and University of Michigan running back who is presently with the Oakland Raiders, are co-sponsoring the fourth annual Youth 'Team Wheatley Round Ball Classic'.

The one-game elimination tournament will be staged on June 2, 3, and 4 at four locations: Inkster and Robichaud high schools, along with Blanchette Middle School and the Booker T. Dozier Parks and Recreation Complex.

Team managers may select an eight-player roster and entry fee of $75 per team must be submitted to Inkster Parks and Recreation on or before May 10.

Trophies will be awarded for first, second and third places.

Teams will be accepted on a first come, first serve basis. Further information may be obtained by contacting Ruth E. Williams at 728-7530.

All proceeds will be donated to the Inkster Parks and Recreation.

Wayne hosts 5-K run

It's that time of the year when runners want to get out and do their thing.

And, the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department is seeking runners - and walkers, too - for their second annual 5-K Run/Walk which will be staged on May 6.

If you feel up to it, then pick up the telephone and dial 734-728-2000 for more information.

The running-walking events will be staged at the Wayne Community Center, located at Howe and Annapolis Road.

Fitness class is scheduled

The Wayne Recreation Department also is conducting a Fitness, Fun & Line Dancing class on Fridays, at 11:30 a.m., beginning May 12.

Recreation officials say that you can attend the first class, participate and then decide if you'd like to join.

The eight-week session will cost $32.

Tourney officials seek junior hoop teams, players

If you're looking for some action in the form of a junior basketball tournament this summer, look no further than the North American Youth Regional Basketball Tournament.

Some of the top players in the area and state usually head to Schoolcraft College to compete in the tournament.

Tournament officials announced this week that they still have openings in their annual summer regional youth tournament. The tournament will be held on June 16-18 at Schoolcraft College.

The tournament will feature 10 different brackets. They include 5th- 6th grade boys; 5th-6th grade girls; 7th grade girls; 8th grade boys; 8th grade girls; 9th-10th grade boys; 9th-10th grade girls; 11th-12th grade boys; and 11th grade girls.

All grades are based on the grade in which a student is enrolled during the 1999-2000 school year.

The entry fee for the tournament is $225 and guarantees a minimum of five games.

There will be awards presented in each of the brackets.

The entry registration deadline is May 26.

For additional information or an entry form, please call the toll-free NAYS tournament hotline at 1-888-629-2275 or 1-800-787-3265.

Ian Gold
As a prep star

Denver Broncos see Gold in ex-Belleville star

Ian Gold and his two brothers - Jeremy and Jason - made Belleville High School a formidable force on the gridiron in the mid-1990's.

Under the guidance of veteran coach Bob LaPointe, the three Gold brothers led the Tigers to the Mega Conference, Red Division title and to back-to-back appearances in the state playoffs.

Ian, a linebacker and running back, went on to star for coach Lloyd Carr at the University of Michigan, while Jason and Jeremy opted to join the lineup of coach Daryl Montie at Central Michigan University.

Last week, Ian Gold was drafted in the second round of the NFL draft by the Denver Broncos and will be joining the team if they can come to contractual terms.

Gold becomes the second local player to get play at the NFL level. His former teammate at U of M, running back Tyrone Wheatley, is with the Oakland Raiders.

Wheatley is a product of Robichaud High School in the Westwood Community School District.

Ex-Canton star sets record

Former Plymouth-Canton distance-runner Ian Bedford set a personal best time in the steeplechase and Chris McPhee posted a time of 9:13.8 in the 3,200-meter as the Detroit Titans men's track & field team posted a record performance week.

Bedford set a personal record in the steeplechase with a time of 10:08.4, which was good for a first place in the event.

Bedford and McPhee played pivotal roles in the men's team record-shattering performance at the Toledo Triangular meet staged last Tuesday.

After the competition was completed, the Titans had broken 19 personal records, set five new UDM marks, one rookie record and qualified a member for the USA Junior Nationals.

Guy Diakow, who competed for Churchill in the Western Lakes Conference a year ago, also scored some points for the Titans as he finished second in the shot put and discus events, as well as third in the javelin and fourth in the hammer. His 150'1" in the hammer throw qualified Diakow for the USA Junior Nationals.

The Titans had another record-breaking performance as McPhee re-established his 5000-meter record by running a time of 14:43.94 at the EMU Twilight. The Titans will pack up their gear and travel to Des Moines to compete in the Drake relays on April 28-29.

tal of five hits, struck out seven and walked three in taking the loss. The Eagle starter did not give up a hit until the sixth. Annapolis' Scott Wakefield, who also went the distance, fanned eight, walked two. He was tagged for three hits.

Romulus got their two runs in the top of the fourth when Robert Belcher walked, moved to second on Aaron Brohl's base hit, then the two base runners pulled off a double steal and scored with Ryan Block's double to right center field.

Woodhaven exploded for those 12 runs in the sixth to wipe out the Eagles' 9-1 lead. Block started for the losers and worked the first 5 2/3 innings. He struck out six and walked five and was charged with five of the runs - two of those earned before Alan Brohl, a junior took over.

Brohl failed to retire a pair of RBIs. Teammate Phil Kufel also went two for three, including a walk.

Romulus' Keith Timbrooks scored twice thanks to a single and a walk, and Chuck Dandrea chased in two runs with a triple.

Romulus has a pair of doubleheaders scheduled for the remainder of the week. The Eagles will face Rouge at home in a twin bill, the first game of which will be considered a divisional game, while the nightcap is a non-conference.

Aaron Brohl, Alan's brother, had a good day at the plate as he latched on to two hits and a Ajlouni doubled. Holloway was intentionally walked, and that brought up Sansom who singled to load the bases.

Mitchell then hammered a single that drove in the tying and the go-ahead runs.

But a leadoff single by Joe Ruggiero rallied the Patriots, who then strung together a walk, a sacrifice fly and Frank Robinson's single, his third hit of the game, that chased home the tying and winning runs.

Glenn was back in action on Tuesday. The Westlanders played two at Dearborn, then Duffield and the Rockets will get a look at natural rival, Wayne Memorial, and newly-appointed interim coach Tom Wakefield for a doubleheaders on Thursday.

The Glenn-Wayne twin bill will begin at 11 a.m.

Wakefield was appointed last week to take over from Jim Chronowski, the senior baseball coach on the local circuit. Chronowski was relieved of his duties for apparently using an expletive during a meeting with his team.

On Saturday, the Westlanders will return home at 11 a.m. to host Redford Union for a doubleheader.

tory. The Rockets also got a pair of seconds from Dorian Brown, who covered the 110-meter hurdles in 16.6, and he also finished second in the 300 with a 48.5.

Bennie Oliphant ran a 56.6 to cross the finish line second in the 400-meter dash, and Darnell Dorris leaped 5'8" for a second in the high jump competition.

Glenn's Nick Samples was runner up in the discus (118'6") and placed third in the shot putt with a 40'7" effort.

After clashing with cross-district opponent Wayne Memorial on Tuesday, Glenn returns to the field to meet Farmington today.

Historical Commission vote due next week...

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The City Council's Advisory Committee reportedly will take up the issue of appointments to the Romulus Historical Commission next week.

The committee consisting of City Council members LeRoy Burcroff, Michael Prybyla and Randolph Gear will reportedly meet before Monday's council meeting to decide on their recommendations.

The council will then take final action at their meeting. The issue was raised in recent weeks by Judith Widman, president of the Romulus Historical Society.

She claims that the city appoints four Historical Commission members and the Historical Society appoints three others.

The Society's "appointments" were listed as Bill Crane, Mark Lewkowicz and Ken Widman.

Widman asked why they haven't been made aware of their approval or disapproval as of January 2000.

In a letter to the City Council, Mayor William Oakley stated "neither the City nor the Historical Society appoints members to the Historical Commission, they merely provide recommendations."

Oakley's letter adds "only the council in their confirmation process has the authority to make these appointments."

"Historically it is very rare that any serving member is not reappointed except in the event of resignation," the letter continued.

Oakley also explained that the legal authority by which the commission operates is not awarded by charter as Widman claims, but by city resolution adopted on Dec. 9, 1985.

Widman appeared at the City Council session Monday night and asked why she still hadn't heard from Oakley.

Councilman Leroy Burcroff asked her about the letter that was part of the council packet Monday. Oakley explained that she did not receive such a letter, only the council members.

2000 Pontiac Sunfire SE Coupe

New Sunfire provides superior value, gas mileage for subcompact

By MIKE WILCOX
MCN Publisher

If your limited budget can't afford an expensive sports car, then maybe you should take a look at one of the sportiest automobiles available under $20,000 - the Pontiac Sunfire.

The Sunfire offers many of the features of true sports cars like the Trans Am and Camaro, but at literally half the price. For instance the Sunfire's sleek look, particularly with the bright red paint job, is truly a head-turner and the 5-speed manual transmission can emulate a high-performance car quite remarkably.

Pontiac likes to pen the phrase "aggressive attitude" to the Sunfire, and I must agree, you certainly have that feel behind the wheel.

There are however, a few drawbacks to the 2000 Sunfire SE Coupe. For one I am not a fan of the new Getrag five-speed manual transmission. Pontiac literature proclaims the Getrag offers better synchronization and linkage to provide easier shifting. My experience was that shifting was more difficult than many manual transmissions I had previously tested.

The Sunfire offers many of the features of true sports cars like the Trans Am and Camaro, but at literally half the price.

Likewise, I don't care for the back seats that Pontiac and other manufacturers insist on producing in subcompact cars. The seats are essentially useless for all passengers over 8 years old. Why not just make the Sunfire a sporty two-seater and compete favorably with the Mazda Miata and other foreign subcompacts?

But, there are plenty of features to crow about with this vehicle. First, with gas prices hovering at the $1.50 mark, it is nice to see a vehicle pushing 30 miles per gallon. I've been in my share of SUV's that proclaim 15-18 mpg's and quite frankly, I was ecstatic to drive around Detroit several days and never have to fill-up.

My test vehicle came equipped with the new Pontiac Radio Data Systems (RDS) audio receiver, a disc player, equalizer and six speakers. That's a lot of sound in the little subcompact. RDS, on the other hand, is new technology that provides a slew of information including traffic reports, emergency broadcasts and the ability to program the type of music you like and then automatically search stations for that type.

Of course the enhanced sound package as well as other special items that make the Sunfire sportier can easily add an additional 25% to the base price of $13,900. Depending on your budget, it might be worth the additional money, but in my opinion, the stripped down version is a pretty nice car for the money.

Whichever you choose, it appears you can't go wrong. Pontiac has again offered an exciting drive for a fair price.
